

Galgafarm First Hungarian Organic Cooperative and the Galgahévíz Ecovillage

The Gaia Ecological and Rural Development Foundation is operating in Galgahévíz and was established in 1990. We established a model called „Galgahévíz Ecovillage“ as a social experiment by consistently applying the elements of sustainable rural development.

It was a conscious decision by us to lay and stabilize the financial, legal and professional foundations of a local economy prior to building the infrastructure and houses of the ecovillage itself.

In accordance with this, first we have set the necessary preconditions for producing completely chemical-free ecological food on a 250 ha land from producing agricultural raw materials to producing prepared foodstuffs.

We have milk, meat, fruit and vegetable and flour milling industrial processing plants and a bakery.

The ecological or natural building materials that can be used in our buildings are the natural materials produced through energy-conscious technologies, biological water cleaning system, renewable energy solutions.
